

Abstract of the Disclosure

A disposable nail clippings catcher for use with conventional nail clippers includes a generally hollow housing adapted to slidably retain the nail clipper. An adhesive coating or strip on the interior of the housing captures and retains the toenail and fingernail clipped fragments.